

Fankai Dai

Curriculum Vitae

Ph.D. Student

School of Future Media

The University of Hong Kong

Pok Fu Lam, Hong Kong

E-mail: daifankai@gmail.com

EDUCATION

Ph.D. The University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong (2025 -)
– Journalism

M.A. Tsinghua University, Chinese Mainland (2022 - 2025)
– Journalism & Communication

B.A. Zhejiang University, Chinese Mainland (2018 - 2022)
– Journalism

National Chengchi University, Taiwan – Exchange Student, Fall 2024
– Master's Program in Communication

REFEREED JOURNAL PUBLICATIONS

In English:

Chen, J., Dai, F., & Mou, Y. (2026). AI Claims Authority: How Source and Corrective Strategy Shape Perceived Credibility in Combating Misinformation. Journal of Broadcasting & Electronic Media, 1–19.

In Chinese:

Li, H., Liu, Y., Dai, F. (2025). Where's the Covid-19 testing stations now? Liminal Memoryscape, and Covid-19 Heritage in China's Urban Space. Communication & Society [TSSCI], 75, 1-36.

Zhou, R., Wang, W., Dai, F., & Zhou, Z. (2021). Learning to make news: How Chinese college students and faculty covered the Covid-19 pandemic. Shanghai Journalism Review [CSSCI], 11, 53-65.

REFEREED CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS

In English:

9. Dai, F., Fu, K. (2025). The Diffusion of Design-Based Causal Inference Methods Across Social Science Disciplines. Paper presented at the Causal Inference Institute in Communication Studies, a pre-conference of the 76th Annual Conference of the International Communication Association (ICA), Cape Town, South Africa.
8. Dai, F. (2025). Amusing ourselves or deliberating for justice? The impact of entertainment content and gamification on the quality of discussion in crowdsourced content moderation. Paper presented at the 75th Annual Conference of the International Communication Association (ICA), Denver, Colorado, USA.
7. Mou, Y., Chen, J., & Dai, F. (2025). Racing between Machine Heuristics and Authority Heuristics: The Effect of AI Sources on Correcting Scientific Misinformation in Fact-checking and Rumor-debunking. Paper presented at the 75th Annual Conference of the International Communication Association (ICA), Denver, Colorado, USA.
6. Chen, J., Dai, F., & Mou, Y. (2025). AI Fact-checking or Rumor-debunking? Assessing the Impact of Source, Genre Type, and Heuristic Thinking on Correction Credibility. Paper presented at the 75th Annual Conference of the International Communication Association (ICA), Denver, Colorado, USA.
5. Wang, W., Dai, F., Xing, J., & Seong Yun, D. (2024). Double Generalized Hate Speech: The Boundary of Hate Speech in China's Crowdsourcing Governance Practices. Paper presented at the International Association for Media and Communication Research (IAMCR) Annual Conference, Christchurch, New Zealand.
4. Dai, F., Wang, W. (2024). What are the sources worried about when they are interviewed by journalists? Investigating the journalist-source relationship in China. Paper presented at the International Association for Media and Communication Research (IAMCR) Annual Conference, Christchurch, New Zealand.
3. Dai, F., Chen, J. (2024). Fact-checking is fact-checking? A comparative analysis of four Chinese fact-checking organizations. Paper presented at the 74th Annual Conference of the International Communication Association (ICA), Gold Coast, Australia.

2. Zhou, R., Dai, F., & Wang, W. (2024). Regulatory talk: An informal coercing strategy governing the Internet in China. Paper presented at the 21st Chinese Internet Research Conference (CIRC 2024), Brisbane, Australia.

1. Dai, F. (2023). Is cross-regional reporting fading? A content analysis of coverage from three mainland Chinese press. Paper presented at the 2023 Annual Conference of Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communication (AEJMC), Washington, D.C., USA.

In Chinese:

7. Chen, J., Dai, F., & Mou, Y. (2024). AI Fact-checking or rumor-debunking? Assessing the Impact of Source, Genre Type, and Heuristic Thinking on Correction Credibility. Paper presented at the Annual Conference of Intelligent Communication and Computational Communication, Hangzhou, China.

6. Dai, F., Sun, Q. (2024). Move forward or Stop? Comparing Users' Responses to Content Moderation by Social Media Platforms in Authoritarian and Democratic Contexts. Paper presented at the Symposium of the New Order of Cyber Regulation: Power, Control and Governance, Hong Kong.

5. Li, H., Liu, Y., Dai, F. (2023). Where have the COVID-19 testing booths gone? Waste, Liminal Memoryscape, and Covid-19 Heritage in China's Urban Space. Paper presented at the 4th Media Sociology Workshop, Shenzhen, China.

4. Dai, F., & Zhou, R. (2022). Informal Communication of Trainee Journalists in online spaces - A Case Study of a WeChat Group of Journalism Interns. Paper presented at the 2nd Journalism Innovation Research Workshop, Nanjing, China.

3. Zhou, R., Dai, F., & Wang, W. (2022). The Institutional Logic of China's Internet Governance: A Content Analysis of the Text of yuetan. Paper presented at the 4th Forum on Sociology of Communication, Xiamen, China.

2. Dai, F., Wang K., Wang W., Wang Y., Pan Y., & Li A. (2021). A Comparison of Content Governance on Social Media Platforms: Analysis of Policy Texts from Weibo and Twitter. Paper presented at the 2021 China New Media Communication Annual Conference, Hangzhou, China.

1. Zhou R., Wang W., Dai F., & Zhou Z. (2021). The People Across Communities: The Social Role of Campus Media in the Digital Era - Discourse Analysis of Coverages of NJU Campus Media. Paper presented at the First Annual China Digital Journalism Conference, Shenzhen, China.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Government Affairs Intern - Meituan

February 2022–April 2022

Journalists Intern - Caixin Media

September 2021–December 2021

Content Operations Intern - DXY.cn

June 2021–August 2021

Journalists Intern - The Paper

June 2020–August 2020